Head Quarters at Rycholt, July 31, N. S.

WE receiv'd here, four or five Days ſince, the firſt Report of the Victory obtain'd the 19th Inſtant, by the Imperial and Piedmonteſe Troops, from the French Camp in our Neighbourhood, where they own the Loſs of 4500 Men, and 400 Officers, upon that Occaſion. This good News comes now confirmed by Count Brown's Son, whom his Father has ſent Expreſs with it to his Royal Highneſs. He arrived this Day, and brings the following Particulars.

Account of the Action between the Allied Troops and thoſe of France, near the Col della Sieta, as it was ſent to General Count Braune, by the Major General Count Colloredo: Dated at the aforeſaid Place, July 20, 1747.

I would not fail of ſending your Excellency a faithful Report of the March of my four Battalions towards the Col della Sieta, and of the furious Attack of our Intrenchments by the Enemy, and the good Succeſs with which we repulſed them, and gained the Victory.

The 16th of this Month, I received Order from Turin, to march forthwith with the four Battalions towards Peruſa, and ſet forward accordingly: But before I got thither, I had Notice, from the Commandant of Feneſtrelles, of the Approach of the Enemy, and was earneſtly preſs'd by him to advance that very Day to that Place, which I executed after a very fatiguing March.

The 17th, as the Enemy approach'd more and more, I ordered the two Battalions of Traun and Hagenbach to march quite up to the Intrenchments at the Col della Sieta, advancing myſelf with the two other Battalions, viz. thoſe of Colloredo and Forgatſch, upon the Heights of Barboti, from whence I ſaw, in the Valley oppoſite to me, a Body of the Enemy, from twelve to fifteen Battalions.

The 18th, we ſtill ſaw the Enemies Tents, but the greateſt Part of their Troops was gone; whereupon I quitted that Poſt towards the Evening, advancing in the Night, with incredible Fatigue, thro' Roads almoſt impaſſable in the Mountains, as far as Valſta, and reached the Col della Sieta before Day break, keeping along the Side of the Intrenchments.

The 19th, the two Battalions had hardly encamped, when the Enemy came up exactly in the Front of the Intrenchment, conſiſting, according to the Account of their own Officers, now our Priſoners, of 44 Battalions.

Whilſt their advanced Poſts were skirmiſhing with our Volunteers, and even driving them from a Hill cloſe by our Redoubts, they planted ſeven Cannons upon the ſame Hill, and began to flank our Intrenchments with them, and formed themſelves there in four Columns; the firſt of which, ſeeing that we had no Artillery, formed itſelf at 100 Paces only, behind one of the Eminencies of the Redoubt. There they halted till ſuch Time as their Second Column, which was on their Right, had got within a certain Diſtance of the Eminence of our Intrenchment on the Left, and the Third to the Right, whilſt the Fourth was paſſing through the Valley, in order to attack us in the Rear. Which Diſpoſition being made, they began to aſſault us on all Sides with ſuch Vigour, or rather Fury, that their firſt Column, under Cover of their Cannon, puſh'd on quite to the Parapet of the Redoubt; but it met there ſo warm a Reception from the Grenadiers of the Sardinian Regiment of Guards, that, after a Combat of three Hours, it was almoſt totally ruined.

The ſecond Column, which attack'd the Flank where I was poſted with the Battalions of Traun and Forgatſch, had the Misfortune to be likewiſe repulſed with a great Slaughter, after two Hours Combat.

The Third Column, which pour'd down from a Mountain upon the left Flank of the Intrenchment, was repulſed five Times.

The Fourth Column appeared very little, and the Iſſue of the Whole was, that, towards Seven in the Evening, the Enemy rallied their broken and flying Troops, retreating to the Place from whence they ſet out, and leaving us a complete Victory.

I cannot but extremely commend the Bravery and Conduct, as well of the Troops of Piedmont, as our own; and in particular I am obliged to teſtify my Satisfaction in the Behaviour of the Battalion of Forgatſch, whoſe Lieutenant Colonel Deaſchkowitz, after the Enemy was on our Side entirely repulſed, voluntarily offered himſelf, as did alſo twenty Grenadiers, with their Lieutenant, to throw themſelves into the Redoubt where the Piedmonteſe were poſted, and where their Grenadiers and Regiment of Guards, having conſumed all their Ammunition, could no longer ſtop the Enemy but with their Bayonets, and Stones; which Redoubt our Soldiers abovementioned aſſiſted them in defending to the End.

The

[Price Two-pence.]

The Field of Battle was given to our Soldiers to pillage in the Face of the Enemy, and our whole Loſs is inconſiderable, whereas that of the Enemy exceeds 4000 Men kill'd, wounded, and Priſoners.

Amongſt the Slain is the Chevalier de Belleiſle, Commander in Chief, and the Major General Arnault, with a great Number of other Officers.

Amongſt the Priſoners, the Number of whom amounts to 11 or 1200, is the Brigadier Borgete. We have taken alſo ſix Colours, and I ſend your Excellency herewith the three, which were taken by our Battalions.

The Enemy left 600 wounded Men at Saye, after their Retreat, being all too much hurt to bear removing; and the French General De Mally has written to the Piedmonteſe General Count Brigueras concerning them.

The Enemy moves off by the Col de Seſtrier, making, in all Appearance, for Briancon. It muſt be acknowledg'd, to their Praiſe, that their Diſpoſitions for the Attack were excellently concerted, and executed by their Troops with a great deal of Bravery.
